1 About Netwealth

In this PDS, 'Netwealth', 'we', 'us' and 'our' all mean Netwealth Investments Limited and 'Fund' means the Netwealth Active 90/10 High Growth Fund.

Netwealth holds Australian Financial Services Licence No. 230975.

What is the role of Netwealth as the responsible entity?

As the responsible entity of the Fund, Netwealth is responsible for all aspects of the management and administration of the Fund and determines the investment objectives and the investment strategy of the Fund. The strategy is implemented by investing the Fund's money in one or more underlying managed funds ('Underlying Fund' or 'Underlying Funds') chosen by Netwealth as having investment strategies that are aligned with those of the Fund. Netwealth may change the Underlying Fund or Underlying Funds from time to time where it considers this is appropriate.

Netwealth is also responsible for holding the investments in the Underlying Fund or Underlying Funds, distributing the income earned on investments and preparing the Fund's accounts. In performing its roles, Netwealth has an obligation to act in the best interests of the Fund's members.

2 How the Active 90/10 High Growth Fund works

What is the Fund?

The Fund is a unit trust that is registered as a managed investment scheme by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ('ASIC'). When you contribute money to the Fund, your money is pooled with other people's money. This pool of money is then invested in one or more Underlying Funds. ASIC has a website moneysmart.gov.au that has more information on managed investment schemes ('managed funds').

Who can invest in the Fund?

You can only invest in the Fund through the Netwealth platform. In this PDS 'the Netwealth platform' means a Netwealth Wrap Service product or a Netwealth Superannuation Master Fund product that includes the Fund as an available investment option. To invest in the Fund, you must have a Netwealth platform account (a 'platform account').

What are units?

A unit trust is divided into units. A unit represents a beneficial interest in the assets of the Fund as a whole (but not to any particular asset). When you invest through the Netwealth platform, units in the Fund are acquired by the Netwealth platform on your behalf. The number of units acquired is determined by how much is invested and the entry price ('Entry Price') of the units issued. When you direct the Netwealth platform to withdraw your investment, the amount paid into your account depends on the exit price ('Exit Price') of units.

What are the Entry Price and the Exit Price?

The Entry Price is the price paid for units when you direct the Netwealth platform to invest your money in the Fund. The Exit Price is the price received for the units when you direct the Netwealth platform to take your money out of the Fund. The Entry Price is based on the value of the Fund's underlying investments at the time of investment, with an allowance added to cover transaction costs. The Exit Price is based on the value of the Fund's underlying investments at the time of withdrawal, with an allowance deducted to cover transaction costs. The Entry Price and Exit Price go up or down as the value of the investments of the Fund goes up or down. Generally, each of the underlying investments is valued at its most recent market price. Netwealth has prepared a policy which sets out how it will exercise its discretion in calculating unit prices. We will provide a copy of this policy free of charge on request.

What is the buy-sell spread?

The difference between the Exit Price and the Entry Price referred to above is the buy-sell spread. Refer to 'Buy-sell spreads' in Section 6 for more information.

How do you invest in the Fund?

To have money invested in the Fund, all you need to do is provide us with an investment instruction through your platform account. If you do not already have a platform account, you will first need to open one before you can invest in the Fund. You should refer to the applicable product disclosure statement, investor directed portfolio service guide or information guide ('platform disclosure document') available on our website for information on how the relevant Netwealth platform product works and how to open a platform account.

- i You should read the important information about investing in and withdrawing from the Fund before making a decision. Go to section 1 'Investments and withdrawals' in the GSS Information Guide located on our website. The material relating to how the Global Specialist Series funds work may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

How do you get your money out of the Fund?

To take your money out of the Fund, all you need to do is direct us to withdraw your investment using your platform account online facility or provide an investment instruction to us. The investment instruction can relate to some or all of your investment in the Fund. Any amount withdrawn is paid into your platform account cash account ('platform cash account'). We normally process withdrawal requests from the Fund to a platform cash account within three business days of receipt of your request. However, we may take up to 14 business days around the time of processing distributions. We are also entitled to take up to 30 days or longer in certain unusual circumstances, such as where stock market trading is suspended. As you can only invest in the Fund through the Netwealth platform, if you choose to close your platform account you will need to withdraw your investment from the Fund.

Benefits of investing in the Active 90/10 High Growth Fund

Can units in the Fund be transferred?

As all units must be held in a platform account, we normally do not permit units to be transferred between different people. Units can in certain circumstances be transferred between platform accounts.

Could withdrawals from the Fund be frozen?

In the event that most of the Fund's investment in an Underlying Fund or Underlying Funds cannot be withdrawn (which would probably be because the investments of an Underlying Fund cannot be readily sold), there would be a freeze on withdrawals from the Fund and your ability to withdraw your investment within the usual period would be suspended. Given the nature of the investments, this is unlikely to occur except in very unusual circumstances, such as where trading on a stock exchange is suspended.

How do you get income from the Fund?

Income is usually earned on the Fund's investments in the form of dividends, distributions or interest, as well as gains (if any) on the sale of investments, which may occur from time to time. The income is pooled and held in the Fund. Expenses of the Fund (such as management costs and bank fees) are deducted from the income, and if there is sufficient distributable income, the net amount will generally be paid into your platform cash account every quarter, usually within four weeks of the end of September, December, March and June. Every unit 'earns' the same amount of income so the total amount earned (if any) is based on the number of units held for you in your platform account on the last day of the relevant distribution period.

How is income paid?

Income distributions (if any) are paid into your platform cash account.

How does the payment of income affect unit prices?

Unit prices will normally fall immediately following a distribution. This is because the unit price includes an amount representing income accrued up to the time of valuing the Fund. Once that accrued income is set aside for payment into your platform cash account, and the unit price no longer includes it, the price drops. If units are redeemed just before a distribution, this may result in what would otherwise be taxable income being changed to a capital gain or a reduced capital loss. This is because the unit price will include as capital value an amount representing income that has accrued up to that time but not yet paid. This also means that units redeemed before the end of a distribution period will not have an entitlement to any of the income of the Fund from that distribution period, but the calculation of the Exit Price will take any accrued income into account.

3 Benefits of investing in the Active 90/10 High Growth Fund

Access to professional investment managers

By investing through one or more Underlying Funds, the Fund gives you the benefit of access to the professional investment managers who operate those Underlying Funds.

Russell Investment Management Ltd ('Russell Investments') is the investment manager of the Underlying Fund. With more than 80 years of experience, Russell Investments is a global investment solutions provider, dedicated to helping investors reach their long-term goals. Russell Investments specialises in multi-asset solutions, and investment and implementation services with a goal of delivering the best investment strategies, managers and asset classes to its clients around the world. For more information about how Russell Investments helps to improve financial security for people, visit <https://russellinvestments.com.au>.

Russell Investments has given and has not withdrawn before the preparation date of this PDS, its written consent to be named in this PDS as the manager of Russell Investments Growth Fund in the form and context in which it appears in this PDS.

Pooling of investors' funds

By pooling the investments of many investors, investments can often be made for less cost than would apply to individual investors and investment and risk management techniques not usually available to retail investors can often be used.

A simple way of investing

The Fund provides a simple way of investing through your platform account and allows you to withdraw your investment when you wish. Generally, by giving us directions through your platform account, you can withdraw your investment in the Fund at any time, as described in section 2.

4 Risks of managed investment schemes

General investment risks

All investments carry risk. Different investment strategies carry different levels of risk, depending on the assets acquired under the investment strategy. Assets with the highest long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

- i You should read the important information about risks of investing in the Fund before making a decision. Go to section 3 'Risks of investing in the Funds' in the GSS Information Guide located on our website. The material relating to the risks of investing may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

Significant risks of investing in the Fund

The Fund is exposed to risks associated with any investment in financial markets, such as the risk that share market prices in general decline, or that the price of one or more investments of the Fund decline(s). The market can also be affected by unrelated events such as natural disasters, political instability, epidemics or pandemics or terrorism. There is a risk that an Underlying Fund chosen by Netwealth does not achieve its investment return objective (and therefore adversely affects achievement of the Fund's investment return objective) because investment returns are highly uncertain. Managed funds are also subject to specific risks associated with the operator. For example, Netwealth's systems could be interrupted or fail, Netwealth could be replaced as the responsible entity of the Fund or its main service providers could change. Similar risks apply to the investment manager(s) of one or more of the Underlying Funds.

Significant risks of managed investment schemes

It is important for you to understand that:

- the value of your investment will vary (go down as well as up), particularly in the short term;
- the level of investment returns will vary and future returns may differ from past returns;
- returns are not guaranteed and you may lose some of your money;
- laws affecting registered managed investment schemes such as the Fund may change in the future; and
- the appropriate level of risk for you to take depends on a range of personal factors, including your age, your investment timeframes, where other parts of your wealth are invested (because diversification of your investments generally reduces your risk), and your risk tolerance (how comfortable you are with taking risks with your investments).

5 How we invest your money

- ⚠ Warning: When it comes to choosing to invest in the Fund, you should consider the likely investment return, the risk and your investment timeframe.

Investment strategy

To invest in a mix of assets across various traditional and alternative asset classes via investment in one or more Underlying Funds, with a neutral exposure of 90% to growth assets such as shares, property and alternative investments¹ and 10% exposure to defensive assets such as cash and fixed interest. Asset class exposures are actively managed as the managers of the Underlying Funds seek to protect against risk or benefit from investment opportunities. The Fund seeks exposure to a range of investment managers through the Underlying Funds. Underlying Funds may invest in other managed funds, direct securities, exchange traded funds, foreign exchange contracts and/or derivatives.

Currently the Fund is invested in the Russell Investments Growth Fund (ARSN 094 799 443) managed by Russell Investments.

Investment return objective

To generate a rate of return that exceeds the Consumer Price Index by at least 4.5% per annum over rolling 9-year periods.

The investment return objective is expressed before the deduction of management fees, expense recoveries and taxation, i.e. performance is measured relative to the benchmark before fees, costs and taxes are deducted. The investment return objective is not intended to be a forecast of actual performance; it is merely an indication of what is aimed to be achieved over the investment time horizon. Netwealth does not guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment return objective.

Minimum suggested investment timeframe

7 years.

Summary risk level

High Risk.

private equity, hedge funds, managed futures and commodities.

¹ Alternative investments are strategies that do not invest in the traditional asset classes being cash, fixed income, property and shares. This includes strategies such as

Fees and costs

High Risk means that Netwealth estimates negative annual returns in 4 – 6 years out of every 20 years.

Type of investors for whom the Fund is intended to be suitable

Investors with an investment time horizon of 7 years or more who seek the potential for moderate to high capital growth and diversification across multiple asset classes, investment strategies, investment managers and styles.

Strategic asset allocation

Asset class	Strategic asset allocation range (%)
Australian Shares	20 – 60
International Shares	20 – 60
Global Property	0 – 30
Alternative Investments	0 – 35
Cash and Fixed Interest	0 – 30

Asset class exposures are actively managed within the strategic asset allocation ranges, with a neutral exposure of 90% to growth assets and 10% exposure to defensive assets. The allocation between growth and defensive assets and the allocation between asset classes within both the growth and defensive asset groups is expected to vary considerably from the neutral position. It is therefore possible that at times the allocation between growth and defensive asset groups may be substantially different from 90%/10%.

The strategic asset allocation range shown in the table is the long-term asset allocation of the Fund and is current at the date of this PDS. Day-to-day allocations vary within the ranges shown.

Assets that have an exposure to foreign currencies (which include international shares, global property, global infrastructure and international fixed interest investments) may be unhedged or partially or fully hedged. The unhedged/hedged currency exposure of the Fund may be actively managed by the manager(s) of the Underlying Fund(s). Active currency management aims to reduce currency risk, thereby protecting or potentially improving returns. However, it may also reduce potential gain from investments.

Can you change investment options within the Fund?

No, the Fund does not offer multiple investment options.

Switching your investment

You can switch all or part of your investment in the Fund to any of the other funds in the Netwealth Global Specialist Series, or to any other investment available through your platform account, by instructing us at any time. Before you switch, you must obtain and consider a copy of the product disclosure statement (where applicable) for the investment you are switching into. We normally complete switch requests within three business days of receipt. As a switch involves withdrawing from one fund and investing in another investment, any limitation on withdrawals from the Fund will apply and there may be tax consequences as a result of disposing of your investment in the Fund. You will also incur buy-sell spread costs when you switch your investment.

Changing Underlying Funds

Netwealth may change the Underlying Fund or Underlying Funds from time to time without notice where we believe this is in the interests of the members of the Fund. We may select more than one Underlying Fund. We will inform you whenever there is a change in the Underlying Funds.

Labour standards, environmental, social and ethical considerations

We do not take into account labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations for the purpose of selecting, retaining or realising investments of the Fund.

6 Fees and costs

⚠ Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

⚠ To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

- i You should read the important information about fees and costs before making a decision. Go to section 4 'Fees and costs' in the GSS Information Guide located on our website. The material relating to fees and costs may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

Fees and costs

Fees and costs

The following table shows the main fees and costs you may be charged for investing in the Fund. This information can be used to compare costs between different simple managed investment schemes. The fees and costs may be deducted from your interest in the Fund or deducted from the returns on your investment.

TYPE OF FEE OR COST	AMOUNT
Fees when your money moves in or out of the Fund
Establishment fee	Nil
Contribution fee	Nil
Withdrawal fee	Nil
Exit fee	Nil

- Indirect costs (estimated)	0.70% p.a. ³ of the net asset value of the Fund

Other fees and costs, such as transaction costs (see 'Buy-sell spreads' below) and expense recoveries may also apply. We may also pass on costs, such as bank fees. We do not currently intend to recover any other usual expenses, such as audit fees and regulatory filing costs. Please refer to the GSS Information Guide for details of all fees and costs.

Example of annual fees and costs

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs for the Netwealth Active 90/10 High Growth Fund can affect your investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare this product with other managed investment products.

If you would like to calculate the effect of fees and costs on your interest in the Fund, the Australian Securities and Investment Commission's website has a managed funds fee calculator, visit moneysmart.gov.au.

The fees and costs shown above do not include the fees and costs of the Netwealth platform product through which you invest in the Fund. Information about the fees and costs of the Netwealth platform product is available in the applicable platform disclosure document.

Buy-sell spreads

The buy-sell spread is an allowance for the costs associated with investing money in the Fund (in the case of the Entry Price) or the costs associated with selling investments to enable money to be taken out of the Fund (in the case of the Exit Price). These costs are charged when investments are made or withdrawn to avoid other members in the Fund from bearing these costs and the amount charged stays in the Fund. Currently a buy spread of 0.18% applies, so for every $5,000 you put in, you will be charged a buy spread of $9.00. Currently a sell spread of 0.17% applies, so for every $5,000 you withdraw, you will be

³ This indirect cost component of the management costs is an estimate based on information available to us regarding indirect costs in the 12 months to the preceding 30 June, including fees and expenses of the charged a sell spread of $8.50. We may adopt lower or higher buy-sell spreads from time to time in the future.

Changes to fees and charges

We will provide investors with at least 30 days' notice of any proposed increase in fees or charges. There is, however, no change currently contemplated. We may change fees that we charge without member consent, however we may not, and will not, charge more than the maximum fees payable under the constitution for the Fund (in respect of those fees charged by us).

7 How managed investment schemes are taxed

⚠ Warning about tax: Investing in a registered managed investment scheme is likely to have tax consequences. You are strongly advised to seek professional tax advice.

i You should read the important information about how managed investment schemes are taxed before making a decision. Go to section 5 'How managed investment schemes are taxed' in the GSS Information Guide located on our website. The material relating to taxation may change between the time you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

For tax purposes, a regime known as the 'Attribution Managed Investment Trust regime' ('AMIT regime') applies to the Fund. Under the AMIT regime, managed investment schemes such as the Fund do not generally pay tax on behalf of members. Members are typically assessed for tax on any income and capital gains generated by the Fund.

Who has to pay tax?

Generally, for resident members, any tax on income or gains made by the Fund will be payable by the member (and not by the Fund). Tax outcomes for you vary depending on which Netwealth platform product you use. If you invest in the Fund through the Netwealth Wrap Service, you are individually assessed for tax on your share of the net taxable income of the Fund (both income and capital gains) in the relevant year of income, even if the income is only paid to you at a later date. If you invest in the Fund through the Netwealth Superannuation Master Fund, your share of the net taxable income of the Fund is assessed for tax payable by the superannuation fund, and the tax is deducted from your platform cash account. Information about how tax applies to your platform account and to the assets held in that account is available in the applicable platform disclosure document. You do not receive a separate tax statement for your investment in the Fund. Tax information in relation to your investment in the Fund is included in reports or statements issued in relation to your platform account.

Capital gains tax on disposal

If your investment in the Fund is disposed of, a taxable capital gain may arise and be attributable to you through your platform account. Capital gains tax outcomes will vary depending on the type of platform product the investment is held through. Information about how tax applies to your platform account and to the assets held in that account is available in the applicable platform disclosure document.

8 How to apply

The Fund is only open to investors with a platform account. To invest, provide us with an investment instruction through your platform account.

Cooling off provisions if you change your mind after investing

As investments in the Fund can only be made through your platform account, the 14-day cooling-off period that generally applies to managed fund investments does not apply.

How to make a complaint if you are not satisfied with our service

9 Additional information

Investing via a platform account

When you invest in the Fund through your platform account, we hold the units in the Fund as custodian or trustee. Netwealth (not you) is the member noted in the Fund's register and is the only person who is able to exercise the rights and receive benefits of a member. For example, you will not be able to attend meetings of members. It follows that we have the rights of a member and can exercise them in accordance with the terms of your platform account. However, we agree that you can rely on the information in this PDS even though you are not a direct investor. You should also take into account the fees and charges of the platform account. If you are a new investor in the Netwealth platform, in addition to reading this PDS, you should read the applicable platform disclosure document. These documents can be obtained on our website, from your financial adviser or by contacting us.

Fund performance is not guaranteed

Investment in the Fund involves investment and other risks which are set out in section 4. We have duties including those of honesty, care and diligence to members of the Fund. However, we and our associated companies do not promise or guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment return objective over any particular period of time or that your investment will gain in or retain its value or that you will be able to withdraw your investment within a particular time frame. Your investment does not represent a loan to, a deposit with or other liability of Netwealth.
